

Carrollton:

FRIDAY, APRIL 15, 1836.

Way papers.—In obedience to the direction of the Postmaster at Canton, the mail carrier between that place and Steubenville, refuses to bear any package of newspapers to subscribers, along the route. We had supposed that mail carriers were permitted by the Department, to bear newspapers to such subscribers as did not reside in the neighborhood of a post office; and we have more than once seen communications from the Department authorizing the practice. But a new order of things having been introduced, it will not be in our power to send out way papers, regularly, from this office. We know not how to remedy the evil, unless we employ a special carrier for the distribution of our papers. This course is followed in Tuscarawas county with admirable success; and, if the people of our county will afford us patronage sufficient to justify the attempt, we will employ carriers of our own; that our papers may be delivered regularly, every week, in each township, at such places as may be most convenient to the greatest number of subscribers. We make this suggestion for the consideration of those who are, on account of their locality, unable to get papers; and of others who complain that this paper is received so irregularly as to afford them but little satisfaction.

New States.—Bills have passed the Senate of the U. States, for the admission into the Union, of both Michigan and Arkansas.

Governor Tazewell of Va. has resigned the executive chair of that State, and the duties of the office are now performed by Lieut. Gov. Robt. Ison.

We are indebted to the politeness of the Hon. Samuel F. Vinton, for sundry public Documents of much interest. Such favors are always acceptable.

From the Nat. Int. of April 9th. CONGRESS.

In the SENATE, yesterday besides other business, a message was received from the President of the U. States, enclosing reports from the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy in reply to a resolution of the Senate calling for estimates of the amount necessary to put the land and naval defenses of the country upon a proper footing of strength and respectability; which reports were referred to the committees which have those subjects in charge.

Of other business of the day, the details are deferred for want of room.

In the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES the day was occupied until past two o'clock on the bill (which has passed the Senate) to establish the Territorial Government of Wisconsin; which bill was finally ordered to a third reading, and then passed, with a few slight amendments, which require the concurrence of the Senate.

The residue of the day's sitting was devoted to private bills, of which with some resolutions of inquiry moved & attempted to be moved, an account will be given in our next.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Up'on S. Heath, to be Judge of the United States in & for the District of Maryland, in the place of Elias Glenn resigned.

John Murphy, to be consul for the port of Cork, in Ireland, in the place of Reuben Harvey.

Edmond L. Rainalds, to be consul for the port of Elsinore, in the Kingdom of Denmark, in the place of Thomas H. Barker, resigned.

Edwin Bartlett, to be consul for the port of Lima, in Peru, in the place of Asa Worthington, resigned.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

The Massachusetts House of Representatives has passed an act to abolish capital punishment for the crimes of treason, rape burglary in the night, and robbery with the use of deadly weapons, by a vote of 231 to 171.

LETTIA BONAPARTE, the mother of NAPOLEON, died at Rome on the 2d February, aged 86.

CANNIBALS AT BARCELONA!

The following paragraph is from a Spanish Correspondent of London Morning Chronicle. After such a statement human nature must stand appalled! "It appears that the blood thirsty wretches who dragged out one hundred Christians from the citadel of Barcelona and savagely put them to death, were not quite satisfied with the perpetration only of this barbarous act of cruelty, but con-summed their atrocity by feeding upon the flesh of their slaughtered victims. The highest classes, even ladies, prized, as a patriotic act, the eating of O'Donnell's body! By this, you see, the lowest or uneducated is not the most contemptible class here, I myself saw several persons eating O'Donnell's flesh: after having cut off his feet and head. I hope the free press of England will not omit to stigmatize the cannibals of both classes—the governing mob, as well as the educated one. I finish with the remark, that accounts like the one here detailed, are of ten if not actually distorted, at least drawn up in conformity to the personal feeling of the writer; but my object has been to give the facts, and so correctly as to defy contradiction on the part of any truth-telling person."

GLORIOUS NEWS.—Strave, a German professor, has published a pamphlet, proving that there are to be no severe cold winters for a thousand years to come! Very likely, for the stock of cold intended for a thousand years, was all squandered very improvidently on the past winter. The hyperborean store house is empty, —Vade Mecum.

THE SLAVE TRADE.

It is computed that there are now, and have been for some years, notwithstanding several treaties and laws against the slave trade, at least one hundred thousand slaves annually imported from Africa into Brazil, Cuba and other West India islands. The London Quarterly Review urges upon all Christian states, as the only means for suppressing the slave trade in Africa, to decree, what England, our own country and Brazil have already decreed, that the slave trader shall be regarded as a pirate. English, American and Brazilian vessels or captains are rarely found engaged in the traffic. The extent, however, to which it is carried on, is thereby not at all diminished. Thus though participation in the trade is prohibited to the citizens of Brazil, the importation of the slaves themselves is not, and of the hundred thousand annually brought from Africa, about seventy thousand are carried into Brazil. The writer in the London Quarterly states that in fifteen months ending January, 1835, there sailed from the one port of Havana, one hundred and seventy slave vessels not averaging less than four hundred slaves for each cargo.

It has long been known that one of the most grievous consequences of the slave trade is the continual wars it encourages among the tribes in Africa—the object of which wars is the capture of prisoners by one native sovereign from another, to be sold to the white dealers on the coast. Richard Lander one of the most recent and most authentic travellers in Africa, who resided some time at one of the native slave markets, relates that when the market is overstocked, the sickly and the old are selected, put into canoes, rowed into the middle of the river, and then thrown in with a weight around their necks to drown. The commissioners at Sierra Leone state, that while the natives are excited by slave dealers to furnish them with a human cargo, on which the profit is enormous, no inducement will tempt them to turn their attention to the procuring of such articles as the British trader can lawfully purchase.

Mr. Macleay the British commissioner at Havana, gives a computation of the profit upon a cargo of 484 slaves brought from Africa to Cuba. He estimates their cost and expense of transportation at 52,000 dollars, and values them at 145,000, showing a profit of 180 per cent. [American.]

Severe winter, & singular coincidence.—In the Saxon Annals it is mentioned that one of the remarkable things that occurred in the reign of William the Conqueror, was in 1076. The frost set in, in the beginning of November, and did not cease until the middle of April.

From a calculation made, this was the year following the regular return of the same comet that paid his respects last fall, and by calculation is generally a bout three quarters of a century making his perambulations.

The same year was remarkable in England, also, for the great fire that nearly destroyed the whole city, and actually consumed St. Paul's Cathedral, and in the same year, other fires occurred consuming the most part of the principal towns in England!

A JUVENILE YANKEE TRICK.—In the village of New Bedford, (says the Providence Herald,) the boys were in the habit of playing at ball. A cross-grained old chap, who kept a crockery store, was some-what annoyed by the juvenile sport, and whenever a ball came in his way, would seize upon it take it into his store, and clap it into his stove without ceremony. A few days since, having made a prize of one of the offensive articles in question, and adopted his usual course, he soon found he had "caught a Tartar." A horrible explosion took place—the store was blown "sky-high"—the stove was shattered by the shock—and about forty dollars' worth of crockery was dashed in pieces! It is unnecessary to add, that the urchins, who had so often been interrupted in their sport by "soupsops," had charged their ball with gunpowder, by way of a practical hint to the old fellow to let them alone in future.

Another Breach of Promise.—The New York Transcript says: "A Mr. JAMES PERKINS has been saddled with damages to the amount of $450, for refusing to marry Miss NANCY GRIF-FITH, after having paid attention to her for the space of twelve years. Both parties belonged to Pike, which is in Allegheny county; but the action was tried in the county of Livingston. One of the witnesses being asked why he advised the plaintiff to bring her suit in this county instead of Allegheny, he replied that, in the latter county, "a jury could scarcely be found, who would consider a woman, soul and body, worth more than fifty dollars!"

Periodical Literature.

CINCINNATI MIRROR.

Edited by W D Gallagher & T H Shreve.

A NEW VOLUME JUST COMMENCED.

CIRCUMSTANCES connected with Mr. Marshall's private arrangements, having induced him to discontinue "The Buckeye," that publication, in accordance with the wish of a large majority of its subscribers, will be issued hereafter under its old title, the CINCINNATI MIRROR.

The undersigned, in becoming the proprietors of this extensively circulated periodical, have the gratification of stating to the old friends of the "Mirror," and to the more recent subscribers to the Buckeye, that Messrs. William D. Gallagher and Thomas H. Shreve will resume its editorial management. In mentioning the names of these gentlemen, whose industry and literary qualifications are so well known, the publishers deem it superfluous to expatiate on the future character of the work; under their superintendence the CINCINNATI MIRROR attained its thousands of subscribers, and was recognized by most literary periodicals, in the union, as inferior to none of its contemporaries;—incontestable proofs of the estimation of their merits, and of the appreciation of Western Literature.

From the "Salutatory" of the editors, on resuming their duties, we make the following extract: "Gentlemen of means having become its proprietors, one difficulty which has always attended the Mirror, will hereafter not exist. We therefore bespeak for it at this time, knowing that it has suffered somewhat in public estimation by the several phases which it has presented within a few months, the attention of the western community: It shall be our endeavor to inspire general confidence, and merit general support. In calling matter for the selected part of the Mirror, we shall diligently ransack the popular magazines of the day, and the various new books that are constantly issuing from the teeming press, and we shall have, an especial eye to variety and richness. In the original department, we have secured the constant assistance of a number of gentlemen of education, talent and experience as writers. With us, one important aim will be, to bring out and foster the unknown unencouraged literary talent of this West. The cause of Western Literature we have long had at heart; and we have made some sacrifices and labored hard, and we trust not ineffectively, to arouse slumbering energies, and elevate the character of the literature of this section of the great Union. Anonymous correspondents shall receive from us respectful attention—but we intend to make the CINCINNATI MIRROR a correct representative of the Literary Character of the West, we must be allowed the privilege of rejecting commonplace tales, prosing essays, lame gossamer, and credulities of all kinds."

The arrangements which have been entered into, will place the CINCINNATI MIRROR under better auspices, than have attended it at any time since the period of its
